REMEMBERS THE FOLKS
WHILE ON DUTY
Argentina, Jan. 24, 1919

Dear Friends:
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barnes
Having a little time this afternoon I thought I would sit down and write you a few lines to let you know that I have not forgotten you. I think of you folks often when I write.

The weather is quite cold here the last couple of days to what it has been in the past, the first time the ground has frozen since we're here.

I am going to tell you of a few of the different places where I have been since I came across in the place they dumped us off at Brest and from there we went to Latesate a port near Spain, stayed there nearly a month from there we went to Verdun where I did my bit in this war.

We had a nice reception as soon as the trucks stopped, the boys were not all of the time until the armistice was signed we heard shell whistling and bursting in the air day and night, sometimes to close for comfort.

From Latesate in Verdun till now I haven't seen one of the boys that came across with me, I was put in the Supply Co. to get provisions and ammunition to the boys at the front.

One morning while on our way to the front we got caught in a German barrage, shells landing on all sides of us but we motored right along, the nearest one dropped about 30 feet from us, that is the nearest any shell ever dropped to me.

Aeroplanes in the air looked like a flock of black birds, they always flew in battle formation, just like wild geese. I have seen as high as one hundred in the air at one time.

I can tell you more about those things when I get home again. I started this letter he other day and came very near forgetting to finish it.

From Verdun we went to Laval and from there to Argente where we are at the present time.

Xmas afternoon twenty-six of us boys left for St. Nazaire to drive some trucks through to Argente, I drove a Nash Quad for a while now I am driving a Liberty. John and I make a trip every morning to Montours for bread and beef we were to the LeLans a week ago.

I will close for this time hoping health and happiness prevails in your home.

Sincerely Yours
Pvt. Henry Joseph Ritcher
106th Field Artillery
Supply Co. A. E. F.

THE BEST YET
Those who attended the final mass meeting of the Fathers and Sons week program in Wauseon at the Christian church last Sunday afternoon, state that the most interesting and vivid descriptions of the actual experiences and activities of American soldiers on the front lines were given by Mr. L. E. Burkett, director of the Y. M. C. A. Welcome Hut in Toledo.

Mr. Burkett, who was the American forces in the front line trenches and spoke of the things he actually saw and heard. He told of what our boys have been through and gave some excellent suggestions as to how they should be received and treated on their return.
